

A Statement from the San Pablo Police Department

The Memphis Police Department released several videos showing the beating of 29-year-old Tyre Nichols at the hands of five Memphis, Tennessee police officers. Nichols' death was tragic and the men and women of the San Pablo Police Department want to express our thoughts and prayers to his loved ones.

“As Chief of San Pablo Police, I stand with countless Americans to express my deep sadness and anger at what we saw in that body-worn camera video,” said Chief Ron Raman, “there is seemingly no explanation or justification for the escalation of events leading to this tragedy, which do not align with the San Pablo Police Department’s commitment to protecting and serving our community.”

The five officers shown in the video were arrested and charged with murder following their swift termination from the Memphis Police Department.
